Become a Tenants' Rights Counselor & Protect Tenants in Foreclosed Homes

Many of California's 14 million tenants have become innocent and forgotten victims in the foreclosure crisis.

Under attack by unscrupulous landlords and banks, a growing number of tenants in foreclosure situations are unjustly having their utilities shut-off, losing their security deposits, and being evicted prematurely. At a time of such economic uncertainty this can be catastrophic to working people.

!!WE HAVE TO STOP THIS!!

As a Tenant Counselor with our Foreclosure Hotline you will play a key role in empowering tenants to assert their rights and protect their homes and families.

All volunteers will be trained on Californian tenant rights and the foreclosure process.

As a Hotline Volunteer Counselor, You will:

- Help tenants assert their rights in order to stay in their homes, protect their security deposits, and keep their utilities on after foreclosure
- Connect tenants with local organizations that provide additional services
- Help our organization track banks, realtors, and lawyers who are routinely violating tenants' rights

Skills Necessary

- Commitment to economic justice and tenant rights issues
- Prior experience in tenant counseling preferred, but not required
- Willingness to volunteer at least 4 hours per week at our San Francisco office (995 Market Street)

Please send a resume and short cover letter explaining your interest in the position to Gabe Treves at gabe@tenantstogether.org
